

Implementing the Staffing Law: How Nurse Leaders Can Use Data and Collective Action to Achieve and Enforce Effective Staffing Plans

Learning Outcome:

Identify at least three concepts that support creating effective facility staffing plans under the new staffing law.

Objectives:

1. Explain how organizing and collective action advance staffing improvements.
2. Identify concrete tasks of workplace leaders during the first two phases of implementation of the staffing law.
3. Identify the unit-by-unit raw data necessary to support facility staffing plan proposals and the role of the unit leader in gathering this raw data.
4. Identify the external relationships necessary to support strong facility staffing plans and the opportunities to expand healthcare workers' capacities to advocate.
5. Identify the phases of implementation of the staffing law and corresponding actions.
